

Lane County Granges

What is a grange? Founded in 1867, the Grange is the nation's oldest farm organization and supports community, agriculture and education. There are community or "subordinate" granges, district level granges known as "Pomona Granges," and state and national level granges which have active lobbying staffs at the capitols.

What has the Grange done for local agriculture historically? The Grange was instrumental in breaking the stranglehold that monopolies such as the railroads had on agriculture. The birth of the Cooperative Extension Service, Rural Free Delivery and the Farm Credit System were largely due to Grange lobbying. Locally, grange members established the Producer's Public Market in 1915, which later became the Lane County Farmers Market.

What can the Grange do for local agriculture today? Granges are situated in communities large and small throughout the U.S. They typically include a main hall with a stage and a kitchen/dining room, a great place to unite socially and foster a democratic process through which the community can advance its own agenda. Let your voice be heard!

What can local agriculture do for the Grange? For 146 years and counting, the family-friendly Grange has celebrated the science and mystery of agriculture. As Americans are starting to take a deeper look at the quality and origin of our food, we recognize the value of this non-profit grassroots organization that is based on the premise that agriculture and the lessons of the farm apply to everyone. With 22 Granges in Lane County and 176 Granges statewide, we are ideally situated to promote and support local agricultural efforts.
